WELCOME OUR NUTRITION EXPERT ASHLEY DOYLE-LUCAS

On the heels of the success of this past fall's LEAP (Learn Explore And Practice) program, Ashley Doyle-Lucas, our staff Nutrition Expert, plans to apply the same nutrition-focused principles to this winter's Weight Loss Challenge.

Armed with a PhD in Nutrition, Ashley will continue to help our members—both those enrolled in the Weight Loss Challenge and private clients—achieve and maintain a healthy weight and lifestyle.

For the Challenge, Ashley will give a nutrition session each week (after the participants weigh in) to give them some food for thought. Subjects may include the importance of hydration, breakfast and knowing about macronutrients and micronutrients.

You may wonder how Ashley began her career in nutrition. In fact, it is Ashley's long and varied background in professional ballet that led her to the field of nutrition.

"I found how important nutrition is to my—and other dancers'—performance and that the way I ate significantly impacted the way I danced."

obesity epidemic, Ashley wants to use her background in dance and nutrition to help adolescents and adults—both athletes and non-athletes—to achieve the healthiest lifestyle through nutritious food choices.

Ashley has traveled widely, both as a ballet dancer and a nutritionist. She and her husband—also a former ballet dancer and now a resident in orthopedic surgery—most recently came to Columbus via Virginia. However, Ashley's career aspirations aren't idle since she plans to attend OSU this quarter to become a Registered Dietitian so that she can treat patients with a variety of conditions.

During her time at the Y, Ashley has really enjoyed the sense of community. In addition to teaching at the Y, she also teaches at OSU and BalletMet.
